A car load of ore from the Turquois was sent to the Sterling Silver mill to lay for a test run. It will be concenrated and if it can be profitably hanlled by Mr. Fisher there is an imnense amount of it that can be simiarly treated. This is ore that can not be shipped profitably at present and there is a probability of its being oncentrated into a profitable shipoing proposition. If the test is satisactory the result will be a steady run by the Sterling Silver mill, as there are thousands of tons of this ore or the dump.

The last report from the diamond drill in the Great American, speaks favorably of the work being done there. Several seams of ore

quence has been done on it.

Again, abundance of cheap labor can be secured from the Indians and native women and children. The long storms of wind are absent, which do so much damage in other cotton countries. Mr. Stewart is raising a number of plants this year from Louisiana seed. Of course, gins and presses will be ne cessary for raising cotton on a large scale, just as canneries must come to the aid of our fruit growers. But when he practically demonstrates that his cotton theories are correct, all the incidentals of this profitable business will, in the language of Scripture, be added to it.-Phenix

An Indian Messiah Gen. Ruger of the department of Mont., stating that the Indians of the Tongue river agency were greatly excited over the expected appearance of the Savior. This is a peculiar case and presents many strange and incan be gathered of this coming of an Indian Christ are very fragmentary, but the belief is thoroughly grounded in the minds of the Indians, and under the leadership of their medicine men, they have worked quite a religious revival and are confidently waiting the appearance of their Sarthe Florence Bakery. A cash preter at the Cheyenne and Arapahoe agency, in the Indian territory, wrote a personal letter to the interpreter at the Tongue river agency stating that J. M. It seems surprising to think of a firm spending over half a million dollars a year for advertising and yet the world that are doing it. They have been at it for years and they find it pays them. P. T. Barnum has always been a tremendous advertiser. He spent thousand of dollars recently to advertise his London engagement alone. He has always said that his newspaper advertising paid him best and that posters and circulars simply benefit him by illustrating what had already been said in the newspaper. It is significant that this is the verdict which give splendid results, the three of all great advertisers.-Exchange.
